The Best Islands In North Carolina, According To Our Readers

By Carolina Seaboard Staff

Published on 07/16/2022

Readers from across the state share their favorite islands in North Carolina.

Outer Banks

For many, the Outer Banks are a perfect blend of nature and adventure. The beaches are pristine, the seafood is fresh, and the wildlife is abundant. Whether you're a beachgoer or a birdwatcher, there's something for everyone on the Outer Banks.

Hatteras Island

The island is dotted with charming villages and historic lighthouses. Hatteras Island is a great place to relax, hike, or try your hand at outer banks fishing. It's also a popular spot for kite flying, as the wind is always strong.

Beaufort Island

Beaufort is a beautiful island with a rich history. The town is home to the Beaufort Lighthouse, which was built in 1752. The locals are friendly and the food is delicious. Beaufort is a great place to visit if you're interested in history.

Buxton Island

Buxton Island is a true gem in the Outer Banks. The island is home to the Buxton Lighthouse, which was built in 1857. It's also a great place to go for a long walk on the beach or to go bird watching.

Cape Hatteras

Cape Hatteras is one of the most popular islands in North Carolina. The Cape is home to the Cape Hatteras Lighthouse, which is one of the tallest lighthouses in the United States. It's also a great place to go for a bike ride or a hike.

Swan Quarter

Swan Quarter is a small island in the middle of the Pamlico Sound. The island is home to the Swan Quarter Lighthouse, which was built in 1858. It's also a great place to go for a peaceful walk on the beach.

Ocracoke Island

Ocracoke Island is a true gem in the Outer Banks. The island is home to the Ocracoke Lighthouse, which is one of the oldest lighthouses in the United States. It's also a great place to go for a bike ride or a hike.

Roanoke Island

Roanoke Island is the home of the Roanoke Lighthouse, which was built in 1857. The island is also known for its beautiful beaches and the Roanoke Island Festival Park, which is a great place to learn about the history of the area.

Chincoteague Island

Chincoteague Island is a great place to go for a bike ride or a hike. The island is also home to the Chincoteague National Wildlife Refuge, which is a great place to see a variety of birds and other wildlife.

Hatteras Island

Hatteras Island is a great place to go for a bike ride or a hike. The island is also home to the Hatteras Lighthouse, which was built in 1886. It's also a great place to go for a long walk on the beach or to go bird watching.

Ocracoke Island

Ocracoke Island is a great place to go for a bike ride or a hike. The island is also home to the Ocracoke Lighthouse, which is one of the oldest lighthouses in the United States. It's also a great place to go for a peaceful walk on the beach.

Roanoke Island

Roanoke Island is the home of the Roanoke Lighthouse, which was built in 1857. The island is also known for its beautiful beaches and the Roanoke Island Festival Park, which is a great place to learn about the history of the area.

Chincoteague Island

Chincoteague Island is a great place to go for a bike ride or a hike. The island is also home to the Chincoteague National Wildlife Refuge, which is a great place to see a variety of birds and other wildlife.

Hatteras Island

Hatteras Island is a great place to go for a bike ride or a hike. The island is also home to the Hatteras Lighthouse, which was built in 1886. It's also a great place to go for a long walk on the beach or to go bird watching.

Ocracoke Island

Ocracoke Island is a great place to go for a bike ride or a hike. The island is also home to the Ocracoke Lighthouse, which is one of the oldest lighthouses in the United States. It's also a great place to go for a peaceful walk on the beach.

Roanoke Island

Roanoke Island is the home of the Roanoke Lighthouse, which was built in 1857. The island is also known for its beautiful beaches and the Roanoke Island Festival Park, which is a great place to learn about the history of the area.

Chincoteague Island

Chincoteague Island is a great place to go for a bike ride or a hike. The island is also home to the Chincoteague National Wildlife Refuge, which is a great place to see a variety of birds and other wildlife.