

2022 Top Vacation Spots

The past few years turned the travel industry upside down, and now that the smoke has cleared, new trends are emerging. The best places to travel in and out of the United States are a mix of old and new. Even though some people are still shying away from international trips, this could be the best time to land a bargain. When looking over the options, the best thing to do is keep an open mind. Going out of the box is often the most exciting way to travel!

Top Vacation Spots in the US

Architectural Digest chose Buffalo, NY, as one of their top vacation spots 2022, but unless you're into winter sports, you'll want to avoid traveling there that time of year as they get an incredible amount of snow. There are many sites worth visiting in nicer weather, like the Graycliff Estate, Martin House, and the historic Colored Musicians Club. They also like Charleston, SC, for its Victorian-era buildings; landmarks include Middleton Place, Magnolia Plantation & Gardens and the Charleston City Market.

There are plenty of exotic locales to visit in the United States. Town & Country like Lanai, Hawaii. It's more remote than the other heavily-traveled Hawaiian islands and now has the upscale Four Seasons Lanai hotel. For a mountain retreat, Big Sky Montana is trending now; it has resort hotels, incredible scenery, golf, mountain biking, hiking, and more. If you want to explore the desert, Santa Fe, New Mexico, has a fantastic arts scene, Spanish-influenced architecture, resort hotels, and the amazing Santa Fe National Forest.

Top Vacation Spots Overseas

Travel Awaits puts Bali, Indonesia, at the top of their list if you're ready to consider some of the top vacation spots overseas. The beaches are plentiful, and you can choose to relax and recharge or go on some adventures; there are plenty of opportunities for biking and hiking there. These experts also like a Northern Spain and Rioja Valley trip, which visits Barcelona, Montserrat, Bilbao, and Santiago de Compostela before ending in Madrid.

Located in the Mediterranean sea south of Sicily, Malta was where the movies "Troy" and "Gladiator" were filmed. This location is packed with historic architecture, exciting culture and lovely hotels and restaurants. Grumeti, Tanzania, located in East Africa, is a good choice for safari-lovers. It has two modern camps and lodges, along with tour operators that can take you to experience the native wildlife. If you would like to stay closer to home, the British Virgin Islands has some newly renovated, luxurious resorts plus the private Moskito Island if you can afford it!

Tips for Traveling Overseas

Even though some normalcy has returned, you can't just hop on an international flight with a passport and driver's license like before the pandemic.

Travel.state.gov has information and resources to help you prepare for traveling out of the U.S., including country-specific information pages with details for each. They all have their own entry and exit requirements, health conditions and local customs and laws.

You will want to ensure that your passport is up to date because expired ones will not be accepted (routine processing takes 8 to 11 weeks). Although U.S. citizens do not need U.S. visas to travel per se, they may need ones issued by embassies of the countries they hope to visit. Visiting high-risk areas is discouraged because it can put your life in danger; visit the Overseas Security Advisory Council for current information.
