

Scout NBA Prospects Live With 14 Year NBA Scout

The Scouting Experience Will Offer Hands-On Training about NBA Talent Evaluation At The Charleston Classic

Charleston, SC. – October 17, 2018: The Scouting Experience is a two-day, intensive event that will take participants inside the life of an NBA Scout. Hosted by TPG Sports Group, the Scouting Experience will be held during the Charleston Classic basketball tournament on November 16th & 17th, 2018. The event is limited to only 25 participants.

During the Charleston Classic, participants will have the opportunity to scout NBA prospects during live college games and get feedback on their evaluations. The event will offer guidance and presentations on talent evaluation that is used by NBA scouts.

TPG has a long history of educating future leaders in the basketball and scouting industry. The seminar will be lead by 14 year NBA Scout/Executive Pete Philo. Philo spent time with the Dallas Mavericks, Minnesota Timberwolves and Indiana Pacers. Additionally, he also was the founder of the "Eurocamp" that produced over 100 NBA International draft picks including Rudy Gobert, Danilo Gallinari, Serge Ibaka, Goran Dragic and more. Kevin Pritchard, President of Basketball Operations with the Indiana Pacers, said, "Pete and I have traveled the world scouting players together and one thing that I can say for certain is that he has an exceptional eye for talent. One of the best I have seen in all my years in the NBA."

The Scouting Experience is for individuals looking to pursue their dream of working in an NBA Front Office. As well as students and professionals seeking to expand their skill set and network. Offering an intimate learning experience and unparalleled access, each participant will have the opportunity to receive individual feedback and ask questions.

Tickets are available until November 1st or until they sell out. Tickets and more details can be found at <https://tpgsportsgroup.com/scouting/>
